DEDICATION

We the Trojan Staff, in grateful appreciation, dedicate this annual to the people of our community who through their foresight and generosity, made possible our fine school plant, our gymnasium and the facilities with which we work.

SUPERINTENDENT'S MESSAGE

The dedication for this year has been made to the citizens of this community and school district. It is a dedication which carries with it the sincere admiration our youth have for that group of citizens who have made and are making possible their fine school building and its excellent staff of teachers.

Recognizing the organization, work and consistent industry of these citizens which made possible the school plant, we as the staff and students can well take a lesson from them by planning our work and doing each job well- so that good, honest, responsible citizens may be the end result of contact with this excellent school.

Homer Croy, in his essay entitled "The Fine Art Of Doing A Little More Than You Are Asked To Do" very wisely says, "There is an art in work well done and the man who works because he enjoys his job and believes in it often wins a far greater reward than he dreamed. We might think of it as, 'The Fine Art of Doing A Little More Than You Are Paid To Do' -- and what a really fine art it is. How much better off most of us would be if we practiced it. There is no surer rule for business success, and no truer compass for the seas of friendship. Do a little more than is expected. Never comprise for a job half done; always strive for perfection, whether the job be large or small. It is a key that will make almost any door spring open. There's magic in it."

It is my hope that this book will be a reminder, to all who read it, of the many pleasures, tasks and experiences that have been a part of their daily activities in the past, and a challenge to do better in each succeeding job that may be undertaken.

POEM

How can anyone explain exactly how we feel as the tear drops gather in our eyes and we hear the last gong of childhood peal out into the darkened skies?

Our hearts are heavy as we turn to go out into the world, so gray to take our place in this great show with trials along the way.

Our heads are bowed; our hearts are sad as we wave one last good-bye and we think of all the fun we've had in all the days gone by.

A few more sheep will soon depart on the long, long trail of life.
Each has a more determined heart to share of joy and strife.

Oh, God, we pray that thou wilt bind us to thy ever shielding arm and keep our many sins behind us and our hungry souls from harm.

CLASS HISTORY

THE CLASS OF "53" PRESENTS IT'S HISTORY

September 4, 1949, the Class of "53" entered high school. There were forty-two of us. Four years later this number had dwindled by quite a few.

In our Freshman year we chose Miss Cameron and Mr. Rowland for our advisors. George Whitehead was elected to lead the class that year. The Vice-President was Betty Sweet, Lois Waid our Secretary, and Jo Ann Bartholic took care of expenses. We were well represented in Student Council by Jean Pelton, Bob Warrick, Barbara Gady, and Gale Cutcher.

October 5, 1949, saw us being slaves, at the mercy of the Sophomores. After that, the rest of the year was smooth sailing and we were at the start of our Sophomore year. The advisors that year were Mrs. Arnold and Mr. Erbisch. The honor of President was given to Gale Cutcher. The other officers were George Whitehead, Vice-President; Barbara Cady, Secretary; and Lloyd Fowler, Treasurer. Representatives to the Student Council were Joyce Huston and Anthony Blagg.

It was in April of that year we put on our dance, "The Spring Swing." It was a great success. We managed to get through our examinations that Spring, and were now ready to be Juniors. There were thirty-seven to start our Junior year.

Our Junior Class advisors were Mr. Emery and Mr. Pancost. Jim Hopkins took on the duties of President and Stanley Blue was Vice-President. Lloyd Fowler was our Treasurer and Kent Williams was the Secretary, with Lorraine Hewitt Brodock to help him. Council representatives during the year were Eddie Putnam, George Whitehead, Kaye Hepler, and Lorraine Hewitt Brodock. Lorraine was elected Treasurer of the Council.

Our rings were selected our Junior year. It was also our year to sponsor "Twirp Season." We declared the season closed by sponsoring a "Sadie Hawkins" dance.

March 10th and 11th the play "The Man Who Came To Dinner" was very successfully given.

The Student Council election was held for officers for the next year, 1952-1953. It was a landslide for our class. Bob Warrick, President; Barbara Cady, Vice-President; and Kaye Hepler, Secretary were the people's choice.

We sponsored the Annual Junior-Senior Banquet and Prom that year. The date was May 4th.

With only thirty-four remaining in the class, our final year had begun. We were now dignified Seniors. We promptly asked Mr. Emery and Mr. Pancost to go along with us for another year. Anthony Blagg was chosen to carry the worries of our class, as President. He had Jim Hopkins to help him as Vice-President; Karen Camburn as Secretary; and Jo Ann Bartholic as Treasurer. Jean Pelton and Kent Williams represented us on the Student Council.

November 17th the Senior play "All My Sons" was presented successfully. The male lead became ill and Anthony Blagg learned the lead part in one day and gave an excellent performance.

We were proud that our class had helped Homer become Little "C" Co-Champions, with Bronson in football.

Our colors were chosen, green and white. The choice of flower was the yellow rose. "Not evening, but dawn" is our class's motto.

May 13th had arrived at last! We were on our way to New York City. We had managed to get enough money together to be away from school and home for five days.

Baccalaureate services were held in the High School Auditorium, May 24th. The big day come May 27th. Commencement night!

After that night we were on our own, each going his separate way.

PROPHECY AND WILL

PROPHECY OF THE CLASS OF "53"

This is station H. H. S. on the Michigan circuit broadcasting on a not-too-frequency of a 100 whats per hour. These whats are sponsored by the Highlund-Miller Disappearing Gum Corporation, manufactures of that lovely flavorsome, here today, gone tomorrow; not a crack in a carload, gum.

The best seller today is a book written by Nancy Booth, named, "How to manage your Husband" or, "Ju Jitsu in Six Easy Lessons."

Fay Chamberlain is hard at work in his laboratory. He is trying to develop a new type of potato, one with hooks to go with the eyes.

The paintings of the world renowned artist Jean Pelton are now on exhibit in Paris.

Kaye Hepler has been promoted to the rank of Colonel in the WAC's.

Stanley Blue, has all the kids in the nation wild about "Uncle Stanley's Story Hour." The show is sponsored by "Poopsie-Pops" the atomic cereal. This new cereal is made by the biggest cereal corporation and owned by none other than the well-known Raymond Crawfis.

Bill Blosser didn't tell anyone but he took reducing pills and he is posing as a midget wrestler on T. V.

Jo Ann Bartholic is owner of the Blue-Grass Stables. Her horse just won first place in the Kentucky Derby. The jockey was Lloyd Fowler.

Eddie "Scatback" Putnam, has been named the best all round pro ball player of the year. Eddie plays for the Detroit Lions.

"Croad's Cosy Cabaret" is the hottest spot in town.

John Semon has finished his college football days, has refused all pro-contracts and is establishing another record in flipping hamburgers in Shirley's restaurant.

The bluest blues in town can be heard by Cutcher's Band.

Next door is Pat King Bell's Roller Rink. Best in town!

Reverend Tony Blagg is so popular it has become necessary for him to hold services on Saturday night. The Church organist is Pat Bordeau.

We see Lorraine Hewitt Brodock and Carol Brodock Lindsey are trying to get their families to tune down the T. V. (This is Uncle Stanley's Story Hour), so they can hash over the latest gossip on the telephone. The operator, Phyllis Steeby, just broke in to tell them the latest news... Nancy Wilson just broke the world's speed records to Mars. Nancy is a Jet Pilot.

George Whitehead announced he will run for the office of President on the Vegetation ticket. His campaign manager will be Jim Shilling.

Anne Herrick famous trapeeze artist, is recovering from a sprained ankle. She is being nursed back to health by Donna Hakes.

Robert Warrick has been made head of the Engineering School at the U. of M.

Jim Hopkins is the fellow who finally invented a better mousetrap.

Shirley Craven is the well-known Wedding consultant at Hudsons. She always recommends the famous "Joyce Anne" bridal gowns. Miss Huston is recognized as one of the foremost fashion designers of today.

Karen Camburn brilliant young scientist, disproved one of Einsteins theories.

Theda Butters just won the $5,000 Pillsbury's baking contest with her mouth watering recipe for Chlorophyll cookies.

We find Kent Williams still is rising his oratorical talents in Congress in which he is the Junior Senator from Michigan. We noticed in the social columns that Senator Williams dined with President Cady last night. Are we to have a presidential wedding soon?

Don't forget kiddies,

Look for your piece of disappearing gum on top of any light pole, under any incinerator lid or on any Bass Horn.

This program has been sponsored by Mr. Pancost and Mr. Emery.

Signing Off,

"The Seniors of 53"
